Elite Roofing of Nashville Awarded Shoreline Power Project

Elite Roofing of Nashville is proud to announce the awarding of the Shoreline Power Project with the United States Army Corp of Engineers to perform work at six different locations. The project will consist of work under NAICS code 238210 for electrical contracting.

Although our Elite service is known for roofing we carry electricians on our staff giving us the ability to perform work under code 238210 for electrical contracting. The project will consist of six sites across Tennessee, Alabama, and Kentucky. The first site of performance will take place in Guntersville, AL (pictured above).

The project at Guntersville is the first of the total Shoreline Power Project. The project scope will consist of Elite Roofing installing shore power at six locks along the Tennessee River.

The total award for the project is $299,780.

HVAC Work at Tennessee Air National Guard

Elite Roofing has been working since August on a HVAC project at the Tennessee Air National Guard. This project is helping our company build its diversity and capabilities. Vice President Glenn Conway said of the project, "This is just another example of how our company is growing. We have a very solid reputation in the roofing world, but now we are blessed to begin expanding into other fields."

Work Begins at Millington Naval Base

Elite Roofing Company of Nashville has begun working on Millington Naval Base. The project at building 768 has seen the initial stages start. The project consists of re-roofing 50,000 square feet of building 768.

Work will begin soon at the LCC facility which is located on President's Island in Memphis (pictured to the left). The work will be very labor intensive including roof work on a structure that is 125 ft. in height.

Elite Roofing will finish their jobs in late September early October with a sole sourced project at building 1776. This project will require a reroof including a removal of an HVAC unit.

Don't Forget the Commercial Side of Life

As one of the leading commercial roofing companies in Nashville we have been working very hard to maintain our reputation. Fortunately we have been able to secure some significant projects with other General Contractors in the Nashville area.

Some of our most recent work can be seen at St. Thomas Hospital in Nashville along with Hotel Indigo downtown Nashville.

We are in the early phases of a project at a Whole Foods center in Franklin, TN.

"We look forward to this opportunity. Working with the Naval Department has been a pleasure and we hope to show our Elite performance in each of these jobs." Glenn Conway

Elite Roofing Grows During Recession

As many companies have downsized the volume of business Elite Roofing is working to double the number of projects. As a result of the Federal Recovery Act our company has been able to bid more work and has been able to acquire more work. As an 8(a) company we have worked with our resources at the Small Business Administration in order to learn how to be a more successful Federal Government Contractor.

We have been able to learn from many large General Contractors, some of which have been in the 8(a) program. Our employees have attended seminars, webinars, training, and classes in order to expand our knowledge of working with the government at all levels.

With our capabilities for NAICS 238210 (Electrical Contractor), 236220 (General Construction), and 238910 (Site Prep) in addition to 238160 (Roofing Contractor) we have begun to diversify our company. In order to continue our company's growth and success in an economic downturn we have opted to pursue work that most may not see from your average roofing company.

Our company will use our diverse line of services in order to expand our capability to bid and perform numerous projects. In the first year in the SBA 8(a) program we have met many helpful companies, leaders, and individuals that have offered advice to help our company's business model.
